

MedEd Newsletter

VOLUME 6, ISSUE 2

29TH NOVEMBER 2013

Medical Education Interest Group @UNSW

Dear All!

This is the last newsletter of the year! Just a brief one to wrap everything up! Don't forget the UNSW Medicine L&T Forum this Wednesday 4th December morning. We have a great line-up of interesting educational research – see details below. Also on this page are listed some of the upcoming conferences for next year – deadlines are soon, so get a move on to attend in 2014. Overleaf you will find information on MedEdWorld. If you aren't aware of this resource, you should be!

Thanks to Kerrie Arnhold for her expert skills in making MedEd run smoothly again this year. Wishing you a happy holidays & a good rest. Hope to see you next year at MedEd, Rachel Thompson (Ed.)

MedEdWorld

JOIN an international community of medical educators!
Launched by AMEE 2009.

Services available:

- MedEdWorld Publish – an e-library of previously unpublished papers relating to health professions education.
- Database of Masters' courses in medical education
- MedEdWorld Glossary – dynamic source of information on medical education
- MedEdWorld Select = fortnightly newsletter

Is it worth joining?

Access and browse for free and non-registered. It is a useful site! Browsers have access to view basic MedEdWorld features including News, Conferences, Courses, Educational Equipment, Forums and Job opportunities. Registration at free or paid levels provides increased levels of involvement in the community. I've found that having registered for free and followed certain topics, I am getting more out of this site. I'm now wondering about moving up a level to paid "Individual member", which will give me ability to share news etc and publish, have free access to the MedEdWorld Webinar series and to receive the regular newsletter.

November MedEd Seminar Meeting

Many thanks to Dr Eilean Watson for her presentation on 12th Nov. that gave us fascinating insight into the use of eMed Map by staff. If you missed this, Eilean will be presenting on the methodology of her PhD material at the L&T forum on 4th December. Her talk is also available via a Blackboard Collaborate download available in the new MedEd Moodle course – see next column on how to join this new resource.

Other resources from MedEd meetings 2013 are available at:

UNSW Medical Education Publications

If you haven't done so already, please send in your citations for any publications on medical/ medical science education for this year (2013) or late last year, and we will display these on our L&T webpage. We will post up your books/ chapters/ journal articles and reports/ conference proceedings, presentations and posters on our site

Faculty Learning & Teaching website

This site has support for new teachers, resources to help you teach, previous seminar and training recordings, and lots more! See 'Learning and Teaching' under "For Staff" on faculty website:

Do you need help interpreting your CATEI results?

The CATEI pages on the Teaching Gateway have been updated to help you make sense of your CATEI data. Resources include understanding your CATEI reports, interpreting the results, using the CATEI information for teaching enhancement, and academic promotion purposes. The information is presented in a user-friendly format, including podcasts and screenshots.

All technical enquiries regarding CATEI should be directed to IARO at mysurvey@unsw.edu.au

Upcoming Connections Seminars

There are no further seminars this year, however subscribe to the e-Bulletin to keep informed of upcoming seminars OR email ltevents@unsw.edu.au to make suggestions for future seminar topics.
