Report from May MedEd meeting

A/Prof Tony O'Sullivan gave a very useful talk about professionalism and fitness to practice relating to medical students. He presented recent evidence linking risk factors present at medical school with later professional misconduct and what this means for our teaching policy, curriculum, student guidance and fitness to practice policy.

The PPT for the talk is available along with other resources from previous MedEd seminar meetings at: <http://www.med.unsw.edu.au/medweb.nsf/page/MedEd+Seminars>

Next Weds 9th June is the SoMS STinG group at 1130am prior to the MedEd Seminar at 12pm. In LG02 Lower Ground Wallace Wurth Building.

The 2010 Learning & Teaching Colloquium: Focusing on Assessment was held in May. Resources from the event are now available at: www.learningandteaching.unsw.edu.au/2010colloquium

From this webpage you can download presentation slides and also watch the following presentations made on the day:

Assessment as Learning: Pivotal not postscript to learning & teaching- Keynote presentation, Jan Orrell, Education Consultant; Spotlight on Feedback, Shirley Scott, FASS; Online Formative Feedback Assessments: Benefits for Learning, Gary Velan, Medicine; Assessing through Role play, Elizabeth Rosser, Foundation Studies. Also gives access a range of useful websites, articles and reports.

Learning and Teaching @UNSW <http://sessional.int.unsw.edu.au/>

If you haven't used this site yet = take a look. An online resource to support sessional staff at UNSW in their teaching and professional development. It provides practical and theoretical support including summaries, checklists and guides plus videos (including some of our very own teachers) and external links to illustrate the principles of good practice in learning and teaching.

Call for Posters for the 2010 Learning & Teaching Forum Fri 17th Sept: Assessment [of for = in] Learning

The annual Learning & Teaching Forum, co-sponsored by UNSW Academic Board and Learning & Teaching @ UNSW, will take place on 17 September 2010. The focus of the forum will be 'Assessment of, for, =, in Learning' and will draw upon discussions and issues identified in the May Learning & Teaching Colloquium.

You are invited to submit a poster for the September Forum on the theme of 'Assessment of, for, =, in Learning'. The theme can be broadly interpreted: for example, you may wish to showcase practice, report research or critique theory.

If you would like to develop a poster for the Forum, please submit the tentative title and a short synopsis by Tuesday 15th June to summit@unsw.edu.au.

You will be advised by Friday 25th June if your poster has been accepted. Further information about production / delivery of posters will then be provided. Please note that Learning & Teaching will meet the costs of poster printing.

Full poster guidelines and more information is available at: <http://www.learningandteaching.unsw.edu.au/forum/> (Registrations and agenda will be available soon). If you have any questions please contact Erin Withers (ext 58636 or e.withers@unsw.edu.au).

The MedEd Interest Group formed in November 2006 following a research presentation forum held at UNSW. It aims to bring together medical faculty staff interested in education issues to support scholarly practice, encourage research and create new networks amongst its members.

Our main activities include a monthly seminar series, this monthly newsletter, and an annual research forum. We will keep you in touch with upcoming grants, conferences, awards and new L&T publications, innovations and lots, lots more...

Your newsletter

Please contribute—start writing those book reviews and send in info on new L&T research. If you read interesting articles or find new and exciting L&T or medical education websites, then please send them in. What are your best teaching tips? —send them in for "Teaching tip of the Month" (<100 words please). What else would you like to see in the newsletter? Send ASAP to rachelt@unsw.edu.au

To subscribe to the MedEd email group:

Send an email to majordomo@explode.unsw.edu.au with the following command in the body of your email message:
subscribe meded-interest-group

Note: Do not include anything else in the body of the email and leave the subject heading blank

Don't forget the MedEd site with support for new teachers, resources to help you teach, previous seminar and training recordings, and lots more!

SPOTLIGHT on learning & teaching research

L&T 2010 Seed grant fund successes

Spotlight on the third and final seed grant success for chief investigator: A/Prof Julian Trollor, School of Psychiatry. Title: Introducing Undergraduate Medical Students to the Health Care Needs of People with an Intellectual Disability.

The Department of Developmental Disability Neuropsychiatry has been awarded this seed grant to investigate the curriculum content of undergraduate studies concerning intellectual disability within the Faculty of Medicine.

Intellectual Disability affects about 2% of the population, so it is inevitable that medical graduates will encounter people with intellectual disability in their clinical practice. People with intellectual disability have specific health care needs and assessments are sometimes complicated by communication issues. Therefore, preparation of medical graduates for practice in this area is important. The Department of Developmental Disability and Neuropsychiatry will undertake a study of existing material available to undergraduate medical students at UNSW, explore the attitudes of the students, investigate external medical curriculum material developed in this field and develop recommendations for strengthening the UNSW curriculum.

For any further questions or comments on this project, feel free to contact Lee at L.Wilson@unsw.edu.au or Tel: 9931 9153.
